Dear Newrun,
I like cats a lot. But one of my friends (A)like/likes dogs. When I wear cat stuff, she just looks away and makes a face and (B)ignore/ignores me. Can you please help?
Reply from the Newrun Editors
It's too bad that your friend doesn't accept your interests. Try your best to ignore ⓐher actions. Continue to enjoy cat-related things, and say good things to her about her interest in dogs. Perhaps she will learn from your example and see (C)that/which people can have different interests but still get along.
Best wishes,
the Newrun Team
